HUNTING IN POLAND

Hunting in Poland is very strongly influenced by tradition, customs and habits that relate back to the first Polish kings.

Hunting in Poland is relatively cheap but still provides many with new impressions.

You will experience game like red deer, roe deer, wild boar and foxes in their natural environment. Polish hunters are very experienced because they hunt in unfenced territories and have excellent knowledge of game behavior. In the last few years Polish hunting has become increasingly famous amongst the International hunting community.

There are two main ways of hunting in Poland:

- Individual hunting – when hunters hunt without the help of beaters, but must be accompanied by a hunting guide
- Collective hunting – when hunters hunt with the help of beaters and dogs, who drive the game towards a line of the hunters.
